Japanese Craftsmanship - Takumi Technology Crafted Intelligence

Taking its meaning from the Japanese word 'artisan', this innovative process engineers mastered performance directly into each layer – combining them into one unified system that assures enduring bond strength and longevity.

Ultrafabrics' proprietary Takumi Technology makes up the DNA of every roll leaving their mill.

Continually perfected, it is the only process able to achieve the premium quality of Ultrafabrics. Their dedication and consistency delivers an experience that changes the expectations for performance fabrics.
